- Suggest powerpoint presentation be printed in notes format so attendees can write notes next to the slide (use regular rather than glossy paper)
- Set the thermostat at a lower temperature
- thank you for having the speakers repeat questions
- I suspect most of the attendees were a bit overwhelmed with the very technical presentation of the model, but appreciated the transparency of the assumptions and functionality
- suggest the public notice indicate when the presentation will be technical - or even split the presentation into "general" & "technical" sections
