

HUMAN RESOURCES PROGRAM MANAGER M. SUE McCANNEL

M. Sue McCannel is the Human Resources Officer for the Bureau of Reclamation's Great Plains Regional Office. Her department provides program administration and oversight for the Great Plains Region in the following functional areas: position classification, staffing and recruitment, employee development, employee relations, security, labor relations, pay and leave administration, personnel records and actions, employee benefits and diversity initiatives as well as employee assistance, wellness and affirmative employment.

McCannel began her career in 1986 as a Personnel Clerk working for the U.S. Department of the Navy at the Administrative Support Unit in Manama, Bahrain. She also completed an internship at Headquarters U.S. Marine Corps in Washington, D.C.. Prior to joining Reclamation, McCannel was a Human Resources Specialist for the Department of Defense Civilian Personnel Management Services in Washington, D.C.

She assumed the human resources helm for Reclamation in April 1998.

Sue has also received a special act award from The Defense Civilian Personnel Management Services.

Reclamation is the largest wholesale water supplier and the second largest producer of hydroelectric power in the United States, with operations and facilities in the 17 Western States. Its facilities also provide substantial flood control, recreation, and fish and wildlife benefits. Visit our Web site at www.usbr.gov/gp.

Updated: 07/17/2009