

DEPUTY REGIONAL DIRECTOR JOHN F. SOUCY

John Soucy serves as the Deputy Regional Director of the Great Plains Region, based in Billings, Mont. In his position Soucy is responsible for the region's program functions pertaining to infrastructure and engineering, business resources, human resources, information technology, public affairs and communication, Native American affairs, resource services, equal opportunity employment and safety and occupational health.

He was appointed Deputy Regional Director of Reclamation's Great Plains Region in April 2009. Soucy has been with Reclamation since 1991, serving for the past 12 years as the region's Chief Information Officer. Prior to joining Reclamation, he worked for the Department of the Air Force. During his time with the Air Force, Soucy worked at the Pentagon, Washington D.C. where he was Manager for Information Technology Contracts and Administration in support of the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Office of the Secretary of the Air Force.

In addition to his Reclamation position, Soucy is an active member of the District Advancement Committee for the Boy Scouts of America and has served as a football official for more than twenty-five years.

Reclamation is the largest wholesale water supplier and the second largest producer of hydroelectric power in the United States, with operations and facilities in the 17 Western States. Its facilities also provide substantial flood control, recreation, and fish and wildlife benefits. Visit our Web site at www.usbr.gov/gp.
