

Contra Costa Water District

Contra Costa Water District has a progressive and successful water conservation program. The district has created one of the most accurate, large-scale water budget programs in the State of California. The district uses an accurate and consistent method which incorporates horticulturally-appropriate factors into a water budget equation.

The district is now completing a water budget notification project whereby individual water budget site reports will be created quickly and easily. The reports will include a comparison to actual water consumption, and will calculate potential dollar savings from improved water management.
