Dear Project Manager:

Every year we look forward to our week trip to Lake Powell. We now have kids that love enjoying these experiences as well.

We also understand the importance of water management, and utilizing other resources to obtain water.

We don't have a water problem, we have a water management problem. If you look at most of the states water management for rain it's storm drains. These storm drains are directly routed away from reservoirs and sometimes go straight to the ocean. we need to find a way to collect this water and route it to these reservoirs.

Remember water never leaves the earth ?? it's just relocated.

Sincerely,

James Long
