Ms. Dedina Williams, Bureau of Reclamation, Lower Colorado Basin Region and Ms. Marcie Bainsion, Bureau of Reclamation, Upper Colorado Basin Region,

Edward Denaut, my husband, and I, Lois Denaut, live in Boulder City, Nevada. We moved here in September, 2015 from Henderson, Nevada.

We have lived in Nevada since 1991 when we moved here from San Diego, California.

We are very concerned about Lake Mead not having enough water to support the Hoover Dam and the 40 million people that depend on Lake Mead and Hoover Dam for water and electricity.

I am 73 years old, retired from working for Clark County, and my husband is 72 years old, retired as a Las Vegas Cab Driver.

We bought our mobile home in [REDACTED] in September, 2015. This is suppose to be our home until we die.

We hope that you are making good plans for keeping enough water in Lake Mead to support the full operation of the Hoover Dam and provide water and electricity for all of the 40 million people that are depending on this water!

We hope you and your families have a Happy Holidays!

Edward Denaut and Lois Denaut
