

Concrete Gunner Is Hurt in Accident

W. L. Batty, concrete gunner for Six Companies Inc., lies in the Boulder City hospital today badly injured following an accident down in the canyon.

Batty, according to reports, was working on the Arizona retaining wall, when the air line by which he was working broke, throwing him over the side, for nearly a 50 foot drop. Batty was working graveyard, and the accident occurred at approximately 1 o'clock this morning.

Batty's condition is such that he cannot be moved for the taking of X-rays, consequently the extent of his injuries is not yet available.
