

Reclamation Unit For B. C. Is Seen

Possibility of the establishment of a regional reclamation office at Boulder City is foreseen by Senator Pat McCarran who has been urging this move for several months.

This office would operate under the department of interior and would administer bureau affairs for the entire southwest.

"I have high hopes of being successful in my efforts," Senator McCarran said in a wire to the Review-Journal. "It will mean much to the entire region there to have regional officials of the reclamation bureau there at the site of the great source of western power."
