

Alfred Wooden

Fatally Injured

Alfred E. Wooden died at 2:20 this afternoon in the Boulder City hospital of injuries resulting from being crushed last night under a plug panel form in tunnel No. 4.

His wife arrived at 7:30 this morning from Los Angeles and was at the bedside when he died. Besides his widow, he is survived by two married daughters. He was 51 years old.

The accident which resulted fatally for Wooden occurred when a large panel form was being hoisted. The foreman warned the workmen to stand back, but Wooden was struck before he could retreat to a safe distance.
