

Boulder City and Black Canyon As They Appeared Several Months Ago

For comparison to present appearances, these pictures, published October 3, just three months ago, by the Review-Journal, are re-published. This Boulder City picture might be clipped and saved for comparison to the up-to-date panorama to appear in the big Progress edition January 15. Some of the most striking changes of the three months are paving of streets, construction of the additional dormitory at the left of the Six Companies Inc. office, showing here at the left, building of Six Company Inc. homes and completion of government homes showing in the foreground.
