Six Companies Building
New Two Room Houses
For Its Employes.

2/27/32
Construction of 250 new two-room houses for Six Companies Inc., which will house employes of the dam contractors, was started today and it is expected that the first units of this construction will be finished in about a week.

The houses will be erected in an entirely new district in the southeast corner of Boulder City.

The material for the houses is already on the ground and several dozen men were started to work on the foundations for the houses this morning.

IT IS EXPECTED that the homes will be finished in batches, with several being completed each day after the first unit has been built.

The structures are being built on new streets which are being graded at present by the New Mexico Construction company. This company also lay the sewer and water mains as soon as possible.
