

By

815/33
A. E. CAHLAN

Plans for a cement plant to be located near Las Vegas to supply at least a portion of the large amount of this product to be used in completing the Boulder Dam, have not been given up. Articles of incorporation for the Acme Products Company were filed the other day, and the sole purpose of this company is to erect a sizeable plant in this area. If they expect to get in on the bidding for the next batch of cement to be purchased by the government construction will leave to get under way shortly. It is reliably reported that these plans are rapidly maturing, but that no announcement will be made until they are completed and construction is ready to start.

Also—the new group which has

---

taken control of the Arden Dome Oil company, is reliably reported to be fully financed and prepared to carry out a complete test of this particular field. There is to be no promotion, no ballyhoo—just sinking a hole into the earth to determine whether or not there actually is oil present. Actual drilling is scheduled to start next week, and there are reliable parties handling the affairs of the company.