

Today's riddle: Who's the truck driver that decided not to wait for the train, and dumped his load of muck on the track, so as to save time, and get away for the next load. And was HE laid off for a day or so to make up for the time thus gained?