

Malone To Speak At Boulder Meet

8/29/34

George W. Malone, state engineer and secretary of the Nevada Colorado River commission, will discuss the mining industry and the industrial future of Clark county at a meeting to be held in Boulder City this evening, to which the general public is invited.

The meeting will be held in the Boulder City ball park in the rear of the American Legion building.

Malone is a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator.
