

LABOR THANKS B. C. RESIDENTS FOR PLAQUE AID

The Central Labor Council's Memorial committee wishes to publicly thank all those whose cooperation helped make the unveiling of the Memorial tablet on Thursday, May 30, possible.

R. V. Oliver, as chairman of the committee, today expressed the wish to thank all the members of the committee who aided him in his work and all the persons who appeared on the program for their individual efforts in making the program such an overwhelming success.

Especial thanks were extended to Walker R. Young, construction engineer of the bureau of reclamation, for his and the department's cooperation; to Frank T. Crowe, general superintendent of construction of the Six Companies Inc., for the donation made towards the cost of the tablet by him and the company, as well as for the loan of the equipment and other courtesies; to Earl Brothers of the Boulder theatre for assisting the committee, and to Chip White and Lawrence Wortley for their aid in the musical arrangements.

The following business firms and individuals are extended grateful appreciation for their various donations: Boulder City company, Boulder City Auto Court, Simon Service Station, Green Hut (Bob Ferguson), Earl Brothers, Bud Bodell, Manix and Vaughn, Boulder City Builders Supply (J. Webb), Nathan Mack, Stray Elks club, American Legion Post No. 31, Masonic Lodge of Boulder City, J. M. Eichleay, Moose Club of Boulder City, Bill Harrison, Bill O'Hara, D. H. Delmar, H. S. Anderson, Boulder City Motors, Harold Colder, Browders Cafe, George Knox, and the Nevada Jewelry, Bert Smith's Root Beer Stand, Emporium, Parks Funeral Home, Dr. Chase, Dr. Agasim, Dr. Julius Kehoe, Dr. Gatewood, Dr. McDaniels and the many hundreds of other individuals whose contributions went to make up the amount necessary to finance the tablet and ceremonies.
