

Torrid Mae Is Matched By Desert Heat

6-26-35
Mae West, hottest of Hollywood's red-hot mamas, found something to match her reputedly torrid temperature yesterday when, according to Ranger L. W. Peterson of the Boulder dam reservation's police force, she essayed a trip into the canyon at four o'clock in the afternoon.

"Say mister, they sure turned on the heat down here," she drawled for Peterson's benefit as she paused on her way back to Las Vegas.

Peterson says Miss West was accompanied only by her chauffeur and said she was headed back to Hollywood right away.
