

Prominent East Party Views Dam

Edgar Brossard, member of the United States tariff commission, was a Boulder dam visitor yesterday, accompanied by his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowley, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sam Cowley, widow of the government agent who was shot in the gun battle with Baby-Face Nelson several months ago, and Sam Cowley, Jr., young son of the deceased federal officer.

During their visit here, they called on Judge Marion B. Earl of the local district court, who was a classmate and close friend of Cowley during the years they attended George Washington university together in Washington, D. C.
