

PIOCHE POWER CONFERENCE SET

10-23

A conference bearing on the details of the Pioche power line will be held Friday between representatives of the mining companies interested in developing the district, and A. J. Branerd, PWA engineer from Washington, Congressman J. G. Scrugham announced this morning just prior to departing on the Boulder lake excursion with members of the house appropriations committee and national park officials.

Scrugham will attend the hearing to lend his intimate knowledge of the project to the task of working out many details which still remain unsettled, and is hopeful of ironing out many points which are at present of a highly controversial nature.

Final action on many of these details, however, is expected to be held in abeyance until the return of President Roosevelt to Washington, late this month.
