Royalty in the person of Ma-harajadhira Raj. Reshwar Sawai Shree Yeshwant Rao Holkar Bahadur, the maharajah of Indore, is visiting Boulder City and the royal person, quickly changing from his position as potentate supreme and ruler of nearly 2,000-000 subjects to that of a motion picture fan who appreciates wild-west movies, has had the dam community's populace agog since he, with an entourage of 14, arrived here shortly before six o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The maharajah, who arrived in the United States several weeks ago, traveled successfully incognito under the name of Mr. Yeshwant R. Holkar for several hours upon his arrival in "the states." Boarding an American Airlines sky-pullman at New York City, he and his party flew to Los Angeles where they were hosted and toasted by members of the motion picture colony. They departed from the coast metropolis via motor-car for Grand Canyon, Arizona, last week taking in the city of Phoenix while en route.
The maharajah, with his retinue, arrived in Boulder City late yesterday afternoon from Grand Canyon via Las Vegas, Zion National Park, and Cedar Breaks.
