

Wesley Nelson Is Promoted To Page Assistant

7-30-37

WASHINGTON, July 30. (U.P.)—Reclamation Commissioner John C. Page today announced the appointment of Wesley R. Nelson, employe of the bureau at Boulder dam, as chief of the engineering division in the Washington office.

Charles S. Hale, now at Reno, becomes acting construction engineer for Boca dam of the Truckee river project, and Stanley R. Marreen, also at Reno, becomes acting construction engineer for the Humboldt river project.

J. Kennard Cheadle, associate professor of law at Syracuse university and former solicitor of the interior department, was appointed chief counsel and assistant to the commission.

This announcement followed the appointment of Roy B. Williams, construction engineer at Yuma, as assistant commissioner of the bureau.
