

Secretary Ickes To Visit Boulder Dam This Month

Secretary Harold Ickes announced today in Washington that he is planning a trip to the Pacific coast this month, and will visit Boulder dam and Las Vegas on the journey.

Ickes said that he would leave Washington on February 8 or 9 and will go to San Francisco, where he will speak on February 16. From the bay city he will come to the Las Vegas and Boulder City section via Death Valley, and is expected to spend two days inspecting Boulder lake.

This will be the secretary's first trip to the Boulder dam area since President Roosevelt dedicated the structure in 1935. He was scheduled to visit the Boulder dam area last fall, but a sudden change in plans prevented the visit.
