

Bureau to Build 30 New Homes

The bureau of reclamation has announced the plans to construct 30 houses in Boulder City in the very near future, according to R. G. MacDonald, assistant director of power in Boulder City.

The first group will be duplexes, he stated, and will be located on New Mexico street. More will follow, it is anticipated.

As soon as legal procedure can be arranged the bids for the construction of the houses, which are to be frame structures, will be let, he stated.
