

Spokane Girl Becomes Nevada Homesteader

—Associated Press photo.

Formerly a resident of Spokane, Miss Thelma Griffin (standing) has become a squatter at Las Vegas, Nev., the town that has been made by the Hoover dam project. With Miss Griffin is Miss Billie Wagner, formerly of Cleveland. Billie is astride the burro. The Associated Press reports that beach pajamas, such as are worn by the girls, are the accepted attire for the women among the desert squatters.