

Dam Worker Hurt In Bus Accident

CEDAR CITY, Feb. 8. (AP)—I. W. Boyer, 25, Boulder City workman, received a broken shoulder this morning when a small motor bus in which he and seven other passengers were riding went into the ditch eight miles south of here.

In addition to Boyer's injury, K. S. Miller, 28 of Wells received minor cuts and bruises, and R. Eldridge, 28, also of Wells had his temple artery cut, losing much blood.

The bus turned over completely when the driver apparently lost control. The top was crushed and all the glass broken out.
