

Dam Bunkhouse Is Scene of Blaze

Fire which invaded the porch of bunkhouse five, in Boulder City, this afternoon at 1:45, drove M. Ives from an afternoon nap by its heat, destroyed the bedding of five cots on the porch, and damaged and destroyed the personal belongings of five men.

About three dozen men have been sleeping on the porch. Ives was occupying cot 27 when he was awakened by the heat of the fire which started in the second cot from him. He rushed from the porch and turned in the alarm.

Janitors McInerny and Johnson, ran a hose through the window of the second story and battled the blaze with the hose and a fire extinguisher. They had the fire under control by the time the two fire departments arrived.
