

Dam Workers Who Quit Urged to Vote

Boulder dam workers who are quitting their jobs or are being laid off, were urged this morning to vote before leaving the community by C. D. Baker, secretary of the democratic county central committee.

"No one should overlook the fact that the absent voter privileges is available to everoyne who is qualified but who will not be here on election day," Baker said. "Ballots can be cast in the office of the county clerk in Las Vegas anytime before November 4, and it should by all means be done."