

Ely's Office Moved Into Boulder City

The office of City Manager Sims Ely is being moved today from Las Vegas to Boulder City, and probably will be open for business tomorrow in the new municipal building.

Other offices of the bureau of reclamation will be moved between today and Sunday, to the new administration building, which will be open for business Monday.