

LEGION ELECTS R. F. SKINNER AS ITS COMMANDER

Looze Adjutant; Lawton
And McDonalds Named
Vice Commanders

R. F. Skinner, of the bureau of reclamation staff, was elected first permanent commander of the Boulder City American Legion post at last night's election, held in the mess hall.

He succeeds George Cass, who has served as temporary commander since the inception of the organization.

A. C. Looze was elected permanent adjutant, H. C. Lawton first vice commander and E. J. McDonald second vice commander.

For three years executive committeeman Jim Lee was chosen, for two years H. C. Young, and for one year J. E. Way.

Police Chief G. E. Bodell was elected service officer by unanimous vote and J. L. Courtney chaplain.

George Alexander was chosen sergeant-at-arms. The other service committee members are J. L. Courtney and E. J. McDonald.

E. H. McAdams was named employment officer and Frank Zeller finance officer.

Final plans for the dance on Friday have been arranged. Prizes are to be awarded at the dance.

Retiring commander George Cass thanked the members for the interest and support that had been forthcoming during his commandership. He was presented a past commander's emblem.

The new commander came to Boulder City from the Kittitas division of the Yakima project of the bureau of reclamation. He is inspector in charge of the filtration plant.
