

L. S. Hine Ousted From Reservation

Found with two passes in his possession, one not his own, L. S. Hine, discharged dam worker, was today escorted off the reservation after having been quizzed by reservation police. Hine was stopped at the gate and brought back to Boulder City for questioning.

He had been sitting in on the poker game yesterday where another man was arrested and charged with the possession of liquor and the conducting of a gambling game without a license, just outside the reservation gates.

Hine was discharged from the dam project several weeks ago.
