

Pacific Bridge Co. Interested in Big Irrigation Project

The Pacific Bridge company, whose crews are now at work here on the gas line project, as a part of ~~Six Companies~~ Inc., was the low bidder for the construction of the Boulder dam, for the extensive government irrigation project near Las Vegas, N. M., according to word received by officials of the firm in Muscatine. The figure for the project submitted was nearly $50,000,000. Bids were opened earlier this week at Washington.

Six contracting firms are identified with the organization which submitted the low bid. They are the Morris Knutson company, Utah Construction company, the J. F. Shea company, the Pacific Bridge company, McDonald and Kahn, and the Harvey J. Kaiser and W. A. Bechtel company.