

Mrs. D. L. Carmody Passes In Vegas

Mrs. D. L. Carmody, well known Boulder City matron, passed away early this morning at the Las Vegas hospital, failing to recover from a paralytic stroke which laid her low several weeks ago.

Mrs. Carmody was the widow of a prominent reclamation bureau employee in Boulder City and was for many years associated with the bureau herself in Denver and Washington D. C. Her husband has a very high rating in the service.
