

First Aid Course For Dam Workmen

Instruction in first aid will be given to all employes of Six Companies it was announced today, the course to start the first of next week. James Westfield, of the United States bureau of mines, will be the instructor and he is expected to arrive late this week.

Five lessons will be given in the course, which is compulsory for all Six Companies employes, and anyone desiring to enter the classes is welcome, according to a bulletin received today.

Westfield will be engaged in this work for about a month, it is understood.