

First Aid Classes Being Conducted

218-25
The Bureau of Mines classes in first aid will be conducted two more evenings at the Legion hall in Boulder City, for the benefit of Hoover dam workers, it is announced, after which the instruction will be carried on elsewhere, possibly in the administration building.

Monday and Tuesday evenings saw huge crowds in attendance, and tonight and tomorrow probably will see large crowds.

After that it is expected the classes will be somewhat smaller, but they will be continued for a time elsewhere.