

Tech Group Makes Study of Project

A group of thirty students of "Cal Tech" enjoyed lectures and motions pictures on the dam project last evening and today were shown over the workings by bureau of reclamation staff members.

A comprehensive lecture outlining highlights of the job was presented by W. A. Nelson last evening, with charts and slides to illustrate.

This was followed by a brief summary of geological consideration of importance in connection with the canyon and project, by Dr. F. A. Nickell, geologist of the bureau of reclamation, and by showing of motion pictures by B. D. Glaha, motion picture photographer, for the project.

The students were accompanied to Boulder City by several members of the faculty of the institution.
