

All-America Canal Project Is Okehed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. (AP)—

The public works administration today allotted $22,724,900 for federal construction in various parts of the country, including six millions with which to begin work on the all-America canal to supply water to Imperial valley.

The cost of the canal project is estimated at $27,000,000, approximately $12,000,000 less than the former project under consideration, which called for water supply for both Imperial and Coachella valley.

The initial development of the canal, to replace the present one, which runs partly thru Mexican territory, will not include power development, but this may be added later.
