

Mead And Walter Arrive Tomorrow

Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of the bureau of reclamation, will arrive in Las Vegas this evening accompanied by R. F. Walter, chief engineer of the Denver office of the reclamation bureau, on a regular inspection tour of the various projects now under construction by the government.

Dr. Mead and Walter expect to spend tomorrow going over the Boulder dam project with Walker R. Young, construction engineer. Walter will remain here for several days, Dr. Mead leaving tomorrow evening for southern California to continue his tour.
