

July 2026 Probable Minimum 24-Month Study

Explanation of Hydrologic Scenarios

In addition to the July 2026 24-Month Study based on the Most Probable inflow scenario, and in accordance with the Upper Basin Drought Response Operations Agreement (DROA), Reclamation has conducted an additional model run in July to determine a possible range of reservoir elevations. Probable minimum and probable maximum model runs are conducted in January, April, August, and October, or when necessary to incorporate changing conditions. The Probable Minimum inflow scenario reflects a dry hydrologic condition which statistically would be exceeded 90% of the time. The Most Probable inflow scenario reflects a median hydrologic condition which statistically would be exceeded 50% of the time. The Probable Maximum inflow scenario reflects a wet hydrologic condition which statistically would be exceeded 10% of the time. There is approximately an 80% probability that a future elevation will fall inside the range of the minimum and maximum inflow scenarios. Additionally, there are possible inflow scenarios that would result in reservoir elevations falling outside the ranges indicated in these reports.

The projected Lake Powell and Lake Mead elevations resulting from these three inflow scenarios are summarized in graphs located at either of the following links:

<https://www.usbr.gov/uc/water/crsp/studies/images/PowellElevations.pdf> or

The water year (WY) 2026 unregulated inflow into Lake Powell in the Probable Minimum inflow scenario is 3.50 million acre-feet (maf), or 36% of average. The Probable Minimum 24-Month Study includes a release volume from Glen Canyon Dam of 6.00 maf in WY 2026 and 7.00 maf in WY 2027. Under the Probable Minimum scenario, Lake Powell's elevation is projected to be 3,503.65 feet on December 31, 2026. With intervening flows between Lake Powell and Lake Mead of 0.554 maf in calendar year 2026, Lake Mead's elevation is projected to be 1,037.10 feet on December 31, 2026.
