Dear Colorado River Basin Study

Let address the water needs of the Basin and include them in the protection and restoration of our Parks, Refuges, Reservations, and inherent Western values. Make sure there is an easy access place for public Comment and Change "who" is in the inner circle of parties responsible for deciding how we resolve water issues. The National Park Service--the keeper of the best idea America ever had--must be at the table to insure solutions are not at the expense of important national conservation and heritage vallues.

We have to resolve this issue in a way that does not lead to further negative effects on key western land, lifestyles and economics.

Please let us know what you are doing about these important concerns

Sincerely
Dave and Sue Click
