

Water and National Parks

1 message

Sat, Mar 23, 2013 at 4:10 PM

To: ColoradoRiverBasinStudy@usbr.gov

National Parks have a vital role in leisure activities, revenue from visitors, and the environment, amongst other factors.

It is, therefore, very disturbing that the National Parks were not fully considered in the Bureau of Reclamation's recent water study future use of the Colorado River

Please include their needs before final decisions are made

Sincerely

Janice Catt