Subject: America's National Parks Deserve Consideration and Participation in Colorado River Basin Decisions!

Dear Pam Adams,

Here in Colorado in our mountain community we have been fighting for over four years now to keep GREEDY DENVER WATER from draining the Colorado River and streams to raise Gross Reservoir (the Moffet Tunnel Project) when Denver has in no way proven that it needs more water now or in the future except for perhaps wasting our precious water. DENVER WATER has even already sold the water from the Colorado river to Aurora for FRACKING according to many sources. This critically devastating project for the Colorado River, streams and mountain communities will take from 6-10 years of mostly 24/7 noise and sound pollution along with deaths on the narrow winding mountainous roads and hours and hours of delays in traffic for many 1,000's of people.

You can find more information on our website:
You can also refer to our Mountain Community Organization called TEG (The Environmental Group) President Chris Garre:

We must all work together to SAVE the COLORADO RIVER.

Thank you for all that you are trying to do,
Y Chapman
