

June 2014 Construction Photos

North Battle Creek Feeder Diversion Dam: The contractor is placing asphalt concrete at the lower section of the new access road.

North Battle Creek Feeder Diversion Dam: The contractor is placing Class II aggregate base along the upper access road and using a jumping jack compactor to compact the materials.

North Battle Creek Feeder Diversion Dam: After performing an anchor pull-out testing, the contractor completes installing of the double twist hexagonal mesh netting around the right pedestrian bridge abutment.

North Battle Creek Feeder Diversion Dam: View of the new access road and precast concrete wall taken from the pedestrian bridge, looking northeast.

North Battle Creek Feeder Diversion Dam: The contractor is preparing the access road for placement and compaction of aggregate base materials.