Bureau of Reclamation
Small Business Program
The Bureau of Reclamation:

- Manages, develops, and protects water and related resources in an environmentally and economically sound manner in the interest of the American public.

- Serves as the fifth largest electric utility in the 17 Western States and the nation's largest wholesale water supplier, administering 384 reservoirs with the total storage capacity of 245 million acre-feet (an acre-foot, 325,851 gallons of water, supplies enough water for a family of four for one year).

- Provides 1 out of 5 Western farmers (140,000) with irrigation water for 10 million farmland acres that produce 60% of the nation's vegetables and 25% of its fruits and nuts.

- Operates 58 hydroelectric power plants averaging 42 billion kilowatt-hours annually.

- Delivers 10 trillion gallons of water to more than 31 million people each year.

- Manages in partnership, 308 recreation sites visited by 90 million people a year.

Mission

- Assist small, underutilized community to develop and grow by fostering an environment where highly skilled businesses can compete and treated fairly for BOR contracting and subcontracting dollars.

Goal

- Continuously build an exceptional record in assisting small businesses to grow and market their strengths in the community and become the premier water management agency in the world.

Vision

- Provides informative knowledge concerning BOR contracting opportunities.

- Provides our customers the best valued goods and services.

- Ensures contracting process is simple and easy to understand.

Is dedicated to managing, developing, and protecting water and related resources in an environmentally and economically sound manner in the interest of the American public. To achieve comprehensive solutions to water and related land resource problems of regional and national significance, Reclamation applies management, engineering, and scientific skills that result in effective environmentally sensitive solutions. What is Government Contracting – The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has delivered millions of loans, loan guarantees, contracts, counseling sessions and other forms of assistance to small businesses. The SBA recognizes that small businesses are critical to our economic recovery and strength, to building America’s future, and to helping the United States compete in today’s global marketplace. Is your company a small business? The distinction is important if you wish to compete for government contracting opportunities that are set-aside for small businesses. To be a small business your company must adhere to industry “size standards” established by the SBA. In order to compete for government contracts you must be registered in “SAM.gov”.

Types of Set-Asides for Small Business: Expanding opportunities for small business to contract with the Federal government is a priority for Reclamation. Public Law (P.L.) 95-507 was enacted requiring Federal agencies to establish Small Business goals. Later, in 1987 the Small Disadvantaged Business Program (SDB) was established with a statutory goal of 5%. In 1994 the Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act established a statutory goal of 5% for Women-Owned Small Businesses. The Small Business Reauthorization Act of 1997 established a statutory goal of 3% for Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone) Small Businesses. Then in 1999 the Veteran’s Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development Act was enacted and a statutory goal of 3% for Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses was established. The Federal government utilizes the Section (8) Program as well, however, no statutory goal was established. When an acquisition is set-aside under any of these Socio-economic Programs, and in order for your company to compete for these set-asides it must meet the “size standards” established by SBA. To learn more about doing business with the Federal Government as a small business Go to: https://www.sba.gov/category/navigation-structure/contracting
REMEMBER:

1. IDENTIFY which organization best fits the type of work you do. Since Interior’s acquisition programs are decentralized, your marketing strategy should include direct contact with each Bureau or Office. Do your homework, RESEARCH, and Know Interior.

   Visit Interior’s website www.doi.gov which has a wealth of information on the mission and requirements of its bureaus and offices.

2. CONTACT the Small Business Specialist of the Organizations you are interested in to find out who your regional representatives are and how to contact them.

3. FOLLOW UP periodically, (but be reasonable about it, don’t wear out your welcome) with the regional SBS and send capability statements and brochures. Don’t forget to register at all the suggested websites.
