1. Introduction.

- A. The Department of the Interior’s vision for a highly skilled workforce that reflects the diversity of the Nation is an inclusive strategy that uses multiple factors as tools for competition and workforce development. Differences in background, perspective, education, and experience contribute to the varied viewpoints in the workplace and create dynamism for higher performance and success in achieving mission goals.
- B. Reclamation, through its Reclamation Leadership Team (RLT) and hiring officials, strives to achieve a diverse workforce that reflects the public it serves. Reclamation hires both qualified non-Federal and current Federal employees to successfully accomplish its mission. The pre-recruitment consultation (PRC) gives hiring officials the opportunity to fulfill their affirmative employment and diversity responsibilities by helping Reclamation attain a diverse applicant pool. This process also allows hiring officials to apply strategic recruitment options resulting in informed decisions prior to advertising vacant positions.

2. Applicability. This D&S applies to the RLT, all Reclamation hiring officials, Human Resources (HR), and Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)/Diversity specialists.

- (2) considering position management principles as described in HRM 15-02, Position Classification and Position Management, when assigning duties and responsibilities to individual positions prior to filling vacancies and when long- and short-term organizational planning is occurring;
- (3) utilizing a variety of sources when seeking to fill positions, such as competitive examining, reassignments, promotion, change to lower grade, reinstatement, Veterans' Recruitment Appointment, hiring of individuals with disabilities, Pathways Program, military spouses or other sources; and
- (4) reviewing Reclamation's participation rates and the affirmative employment and diversity goals with the purpose of considering additional alternative recruitment sources such as diverse community and organizations (e.g., minority-oriented and disability related publications, media, education institutions, web-based job search engines, and supporting regional or national conferences, career expos and other jobs fairs) that may increase diversity participation both in the application process and in the workforce.

4. PRC Procedures. HR and EEO/Diversity specialists will consult with hiring officials prior to any recruitment activity for the purpose of determining the most advantageous outreach and recruitment strategies which will lead to an increase in the number of qualified applicants from diverse demographic groups. - G. providing information to, and collaborating with, hiring officials to identify ways to remove barriers in achieving diversity amongst the applicant pool, such as reviewing a crediting plan to determine if it may unnecessarily narrow the potential diversity of the applicant pool.
5. Timeframe of a PRC. If a PRC has occurred for the same occupational series and grade or hourly pay level within a 6-month period and with the same hiring official, then the PRC procedures described in Paragraph 4 are not required. Rather, the PRC will instead focus on reviewing the previous PRCs and determining whether a change of outreach and recruitment strategies is necessary for increasing the number of qualified applicants from diverse demographic groups from prior recruitments.
6. Data Integrity. For consistency purposes, the current statistical workforce data must be extracted from the Federal Personnel/Payroll System.
7. Tracking. Reclamation's automated staffing program will be used to obtain available statistics of applicant flow data voluntarily provided by applicants. PRC documentation will be retained within the merit promotion or delegated examining vacancy recruitment files for the required retention period.
8. Reporting. Reclamation's MD-715 data tables will be reviewed by the RDAIC annually for employee losses in all demographic groups to identify triggers that are causing changes in the statistical data. Conversely, the MD-715 data tables will be reviewed for gains that show improvement in the individual demographic groups. Reclamation's reporting will be accomplished annually through its "MD-715 Accomplishments Report and Plan Update" to the Commissioner, the Department, and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).
9. Evaluation. Consistent use of PRCs will be reviewed during HR accountability reviews and/or EEO program evaluations.
10. Definitions.
- A. Affirmative Employment. Positive steps taken by Reclamation toward greater employment opportunities for demographic groups with lower-than-expected participation rates as compared with the Civilian Labor Force (CLF) and the Departmental and Presidential administration goals such as the hiring of individuals with disabilities, veterans, or youth.
